Richard Woulfe

BA, MA, PGCE, RSA Cert CELTA

Richard Woulfe has extensive experience in teaching English as a foreign both in the UK and abroad. He taught for over six years at Academy International in London, during which time he rose to become a senior tutor as well as the exams coordinator. He was also involved in social activities, often taking students on theatre, museum or other cultural trips.

In recent years he has focused more on preparing overseas students for university entry, working at various London colleges and universities. He is currently a visiting lecturer at the London Centre for Legal English.

Richard has worked with people of all ages, from as young as seven to mature students. He has also worked at all levels, from beginners to students at C2 level.

In his free time, he takes a keen interest in drama and European history. He enjoys travelling and is always interested in visiting new towns and cities. He likes to keep fit and tries to go to the gym at least twice a week.

Richard is from Limerick - in Ireland - and has lived for many years in London.
